

Celebrate Kids, Inc.

Celebrate Kids, Inc. is a non-profit organization established by Dr. Kathy Koch to improve the lives of children and adults through education.

Speakers. Celebrate Kids provides dynamic, knowledgeable speakers for workshops, seminars and other events, nationally and internationally, in faith-based and secular settings.

These speakers

- Influence people to think of children as precious
- Help children realize their present value and future potential
- Equip parents and educators to support children as they grow.

The life skills the speakers teach are universally applauded because they are useful in all types of relationships and they produce results.

School programs. Celebrate Kids also provides prevention-oriented public school programs, financed by grants, that address issues such as sexual promiscuity and substance abuse.

Support materials. The organization also creates support materials, such as books, DVDs and tapes.

Dr. Koch is president of the organization, which was founded in Fort Worth, TX, in 1991.
